Version 1.0 · Effective 11 November 2026 · Applies to euegotmotion.com and the installed app

These are the rules for using EUE GOT MOTION. They exist because this is a guide that sends you to other people's doors — venues we do not own, do not run, do not staff and cannot control. Read the short version below. The numbered sections are the part that actually counts.

The short version. We tell you where places are and what people say about them. We do not run the venues, we do not take your money for them, we do not drive you there and we cannot promise your night goes well. What happens out there is between you and the venue. By ticking the box and using the app, you accept that.

SECTION 1

Who we are and what this is

EUE GOT MOTION ("EUE", "we", "us", "our") publishes a nightlife guide covering venues in cities across the United States, available as a website at euegotmotion.com and as an installable app. It is operated by EUE GOT MOTION, reachable at eue@euegotmotion.com.

The service is informational. It is a directory, a map of opinion and a planning tool. Nothing in it is an offer to sell you entry, a table, a bottle, food, drink, transport or tickets, and nothing in it makes us your agent, your promoter, your travel agent or your host.

SECTION 2

Accepting these terms

You accept these terms by ticking the box on the opening screen of the app and continuing to use the service. That acceptance is recorded — with the version of these terms, the date and time, a random device identifier, your IP address and your browser identification — so that it can be produced later if there is ever a question about whether you agreed. You only have to do it once per device, and it stays accepted until you clear your browser data or a new version is published.

If you do not agree, do not tick the box. Close the app and do not use it. Continued use after a new version is published means you accept the new version.

SECTION 3

You must be old enough, and you must be responsible

You must be at least 21 years old to use this service, or the legal drinking age in the place you are going, whichever is higher. If you are under that age, do not use the app.

You are responsible for your own conduct, your own identification, your own money, your own alcohol consumption, your own transport, and your own decisions about where to go and who to go with. Nothing in this app is advice to drink, to drive, to stay out, to spend, or to enter any particular door.

SECTION 4

What we do not promise about the information

Hours, cover charges, dress codes, age policies, music formats, crowd levels, ratings, reviews, event details and "open now" badges are estimates and user reports. Some are sample or historical values; some are typed in by other users; all of them go out of date.

Venues change their door policy without telling anyone. A place can close early, close for a private event, raise its cover, change its dress code, lose its liquor licence or shut down entirely — and the app can still be showing last week's information. We do not verify any of it before it is published, and we are not obligated to.

Always confirm directly with the venue before you travel, pay, book or dress for it. If a venue's own website, phone line or door staff tells you something different from this app, the venue is right and we are wrong.

SECTION 5

No responsibility for the night itself

To the fullest extent the law allows, we are not responsible for anything that happens before, during or after a night out that you found, planned or partly planned using this app. That includes, without limitation:

- Entry and refusal. Being turned away, denied entry, removed, banned, asked to leave, or refused service — for dress code, capacity, age, behaviour, intoxication, membership rules, guest-list rules, or no stated reason at all.
- The venue's conduct. Anything a venue, its owners, staff, security, promoters, performers, DJs or other customers do or fail to do.
- Your night not going well. A bad time, a wasted trip, a party that fell flat, a table that was not held, a bill that was higher than you expected, a queue you did not expect, a place that was dead when the app said it was busy, or a place that was packed when the app said it was not.
- Money. Cover charges, minimum spends, bottle service, deposits, tickets, reservations, cancellation fees, tips, parking, towing, or anything you paid to anyone other than us.
- Injury, loss and damage. Any injury, illness, allergic reaction, food poisoning, fight, assault, theft, lost or damaged property, or damage you cause to a venue.
- Consequences of drinking. Anything arising from alcohol or any other substance, including a drink-driving charge, an accident, or a decision you regret.
- Closures and changes. A venue being closed, relocated, renamed, under new management, or no longer existing.

If something goes wrong, your remedy is against the party who caused it — the venue, the driver, the promoter, the other customer, your own insurer. It is not against us.

SECTION 6

Travel, transport and getting there and back

We do not provide transport and we do not arrange it. We are not responsible for anything to do with getting to a venue or getting home, including:

- Rideshare availability, pricing, surge charges, cancellations, wait times or the conduct of any driver;
- Taxi, shuttle, bus, train, scooter or rental arrangements;
- Parking availability, parking tickets, towing, clamping or vehicle damage;
- Directions, distances, travel times, traffic, road closures, construction, weather or events that delay you;
- Any accident, injury, arrest or loss that happens in transit;

- Anyone's decision to drive after drinking. Never do this. It is your decision alone and it is never ours.

Distances and travel times shown in the app, if any, are rough estimates and not navigation instructions.

SECTION 7

Third parties and other services

The app links to, or relies on, services we do not control: venue websites and phone numbers, mapping and location data, payment or ticketing pages, hosting, and an automated concierge that generates suggestions from a language model. We do not endorse, control or take responsibility for any third-party service, its content, its availability, its prices or its privacy practices. Your dealings with them are between you and them.

The concierge is a machine. It can be wrong, incomplete or out of date, and it can suggest a place that is closed, unsuitable or no longer exists. Treat every suggestion as a starting point to check, never as a promise.

SECTION 8

What you post, and what we may do with it

You can post votes, reviews, crowd reports, cover reports, check-ins, photos and short videos. You keep ownership of what you post. By posting it, you give us a worldwide, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence to store, display, crop, resize, reproduce and distribute that content inside the app and in promoting the app, for as long as we keep it.

You confirm that you own the content or have permission to post it, that it does not break anyone's rights, that it is not defamatory, unlawful, harassing, hateful or sexually explicit, and that anyone identifiable in it has agreed to be shown. Do not post other people's faces, plates, addresses or phone numbers.

Live photos and videos posted through the app are public, are shown to other users, and are removed automatically after 24 hours. Reviews, reports and votes may be kept longer. Do not post anything you would not want a stranger to see. There is no expectation of privacy in the public parts of the app.

We may remove, hide, shorten, refuse or moderate any content at any time, with or without a reason, and we may restrict or end anyone's access. We are not obliged to publish anything, and we are not liable for content posted by users.

SECTION 9

Assumption of risk

Going out at night carries risk. You accept that risk voluntarily, including the risk of travelling at night, being in crowded and unfamiliar places, drinking, being around people who are drinking, and relying on information that may be wrong. You are the person best placed to judge whether a place, a plan, a neighbourhood or a situation is safe for you. If it does not feel right, leave.

SECTION 10

You agree to cover us if a claim comes from your conduct

To the extent permitted by law, you agree to defend, indemnify and hold harmless EUE GOT MOTION, its owner, operators, contributors and service providers from any claim, demand, loss, damage, cost or legal fee arising out of: your use of the app; your breach of these terms; content you post; your conduct at or around a venue; or your violation of any law or anyone's rights.

SECTION 11

No warranties

The service is provided "as is" and "as available". We do not warrant that it will be uninterrupted, error-free, complete, current or secure, that any venue information is accurate, or that the app will be available at any particular time. We may change, suspend or discontinue any part of it, including a city or a feature, without notice. To the fullest extent permitted by law we disclaim all implied warranties, including merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and non-infringement.

SECTION 12

Limit on what you can recover from us

To the fullest extent permitted by law, our total liability to you for any and all claims connected with the service is limited to the greater of (a) the amount you paid us in the twelve months before the claim, or (b) one US dollar (US$1.00). This app is free, so in practice that figure is usually zero.

We are not liable for indirect, incidental, special, consequential, punitive or exemplary damages, or for lost profits, lost opportunities, lost enjoyment, lost deposits, travel costs, or the cost of a night that did not happen — even if we were told such a loss was possible.

Some places do not allow certain exclusions, so parts of this section may not apply to you. Nothing here limits liability that cannot legally be limited, such as for fraud or for death or personal injury caused by our own negligence where the law says it cannot be excluded.

SECTION 13

Time limit for claims

To the extent permitted by law, any claim connected with the service must be brought within one (1) year of the date you knew or should have known about it. After that, it is permanently barred.

SECTION 14

Which law applies, and where disputes go

These terms are governed by the laws of the State of Georgia, United States, without regard to its conflict-of-law rules. You and we agree to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in Fulton County, Georgia for any dispute that is not resolved informally.

Before filing anything, you agree to email us at eue@euegotmotion.com with a short description of the problem and 30 days to try to resolve it. Nothing in this section stops either side from seeking urgent relief in court where the law allows it.

SECTION 15

Changes to these terms

We may update these terms. When we do, the version number and effective date at the top of this page change, and the app will ask you to accept the new version before you continue. If you keep using the app after that, you accept the updated terms. If you do not accept them, stop using the app.

SECTION 16

Ending access

You can stop using the service at any time. We can suspend or end your access at any time, for any reason, including if we believe you have broken these terms. Sections that by their nature should survive — including the liability, indemnity, warranty and governing-law sections — survive the end of your access.

SECTION 17

Privacy, in plain terms

We keep very little. Your votes, saved spots, night plan and checklist stay in your own browser on your own device. What reaches our servers is: your terms acceptance record (version, time, device identifier, IP address, browser); anything you deliberately post publicly (reviews, crowd and cover reports, check-ins, photos and videos, which expire after 24 hours); and normal technical logs. We do not sell your data. We use it to run the app, to show what other people reported, and to be able to show that you accepted these terms.

SECTION 18

The rest of the legal boilerplate

If any part of these terms is found unenforceable, the rest stays in force and the unenforceable part is trimmed to the minimum the law allows. If we do not enforce a right on one occasion, we have not given it up. These terms, together with the privacy points above, are the whole agreement between us about the service. You may not transfer your rights under them; we may transfer ours if the business changes hands. Headings are for reading convenience only.

SECTION 19

Contact

Questions about these terms, or a complaint: eue@euegotmotion.com. For anything urgent involving safety, call emergency services first, then tell us.

Version 1.0 — effective 11 November 2026. Supersedes all earlier versions.
